Author's Note

This devotional was shaped in the quiet—not crafted for applause, but formed in prayer.

It was born from a burden—not just to say something true, but to help us live what's already been declared over us.

For too long, I've watched sons and daughters of the King blend in when they were made to stand out.

Not in arrogance, but in clarity.

Not to be loud, but to be light.

In the middle of culture wars, pressure to perform, and watered-down faith, we've forgotten something unshakable:

We were born from above.

We carry the Kingdom

And we are called to represent it—boldly, humbly, and fully alive.

This 40-day journey isn't a checklist.

It's not about striving, fixing, or pretending.

UNSHAKABLE

It's about remembering who you are, realigning with the truth Heaven already knows about you, and rising to live like you actually believe it.

Each day is an invitation— to think higher, walk freer, and shine brighter.

Not through effort, but through agreement.

Not through pressure, but through Presence.

This is not a survival manual.

It's a commissioning guide.

Because you weren't saved to play it safe.

You were born to live unshakable.

Let's begin.

- John Himmelberger

Unshakable: A 40-Day Call to Stand Out

Becoming Who Heaven Already Knows You Are
You were never meant to blend in.

You were born again into a Kingdom that stands unshaken—anchored in love, rooted in truth, and moving by the Spirit’s power. If you are in Christ, you are more than forgiven. You are commissioned.

This devotional isn’t an invitation to comfort or routine.

It’s a call to stand out.

To live set apart.

To walk in clarity and courage.

To embody the values of the Kingdom you now belong to.

The world is noisy. It pushes performance, compromise, and cultural conformity. But you were reborn to carry a different spirit—to live from a place of intimacy, identity, and authority.

This is not about superiority. It’s about alignment.

You don't represent a side—you represent a King.

God is raising up sons and daughters who won't be swayed by fear, diluted by politics, or distracted by platforms—people who shine with integrity, love with conviction, and live with purpose. People like you.

Each devotional entry is crafted to renew your mind, anchor your identity, and activate your spirit.

You'll revisit foundational truths—your citizenship, your authority, your calling—and be challenged to think higher, live bolder, and walk in a peace the world can't understand.

This is not a path of perfection.

It's a journey of transformation.

Each day includes:

- A focused title
- Key Scripture
- Devotional teaching
- Reflective questions
- Bold declarations
- A Spirit-led activation
- And a prayer to seal it in truth

You weren't just rescued.

You were reborn with purpose.

You were called to carry Heaven into the chaos.

You're not here to disappear.

You're here to be unshakable.

Let's begin.

How to Use This Devotional

This 40-day devotional is more than a reading plan—it's a daily invitation into transformation.

Each day is crafted to realign your thinking, deepen your identity, and equip you to live as a representative of Heaven. These aren't meant to be rushed. Sit with them. Let the Holy Spirit breathe on them. Allow your thoughts, words, and habits to shift from the inside out.

Each day includes:

- Title — A headline to guide the day's focus.
- Devotional Entry — A short teaching rooted in Scripture and Kingdom perspective.
- Reflection — A heart-level question to journal or bring before God.
- Declarations — First-person truths to speak aloud and renew your mind.
- Prayer — A focused response to anchor the day in intimacy.
- Activation — A practical or prophetic step to embody what you've read.

TIPS FOR THE JOURNEY:

- Go at your own pace. One day may take more—and that's okay.
- Journal what stands out. This is about revelation, not just information.
- Speak the declarations aloud. Agreement activates truth.
- Invite the Holy Spirit to guide each day. Let Him customize the process.
- Need clarity on key terms like Kingdom, ambassador, or authority? A glossary is included at the end for reference.

This is your journey into deeper identity, intentional formation, and empowered living.

You were born from above. Let's live like it.

Truth vs. facts: When Truth Doesn't feel True Yet

There will be moments on this journey when the truth you're declaring doesn't seem to match the facts of your life. That doesn't mean the truth has failed—it means transformation is still unfolding.

Here's the difference:

- Facts are real, but they're rooted in our current experience.
- Truth is eternal—it's rooted in God's nature, His Word, and His finished work.

Sometimes, your history screams louder than your hope. Your feelings might resist what God says about you. But truth isn't built on how we feel. It's built on who He is.

When that gap shows up—between what you know is true and what you feel is real—don't run from it. Speak into it.

The Bible says that faith comes by hearing (Romans 10:17). And the one who hears your voice the most... is you. That's why declaring truth out loud matters. It's not performance—it's formation.

Every time you declare, “I am a child of God,” even when you don’t feel it—your mind is being renewed. Every time you say, “I carry His presence,” even when your emotions say otherwise—you are aligning with Heaven’s reality. Over time, those declarations dig new neural pathways, break old mindsets, and reshape how you see and live.

Truth always trumps facts.

And the more you hear it, speak it, and agree with it, the more your lived experience begins to reflect it.

So don’t wait to feel it before you say it. Let your words lead. Keep declaring who God is and who He says you are—until the facts bow to truth.

When Truth feels Heavy

(A Note for the Journey)

At some point along these forty days, something will hit.

A thought.

A realization.

A truth you hadn't seen clearly—until now.

It might expose a lie you've believed for years.

Maybe about God.

Maybe about your identity.

Maybe about what qualifies you to walk in Kingdom purpose.

And when that light breaks through, it's powerful.

But it can also feel like weight.

Like regret.

Like “How did I not see this sooner?”

Stop.

Breathe.

You're not broken. You're being rebuilt.

And conviction—that ache in your chest—is not rejection.

It's an invitation.

You are not being disqualified.

You are being realigned.

So instead of hiding from the weight, ask:

“Holy Spirit, what’s the truth You want to give me in exchange for this lie?”

He is faithful to speak.

He doesn't shame—He invites.

He doesn't expose to condemn—He reveals to restore.

You don't have to carry what He never gave you.

You don't have to stay under what He's calling you out of.

Let the lie fall.

Let the truth speak.

This journey isn't about pretending you're fine.

It's about being formed—truth by truth—into someone who knows how to stand when the world shakes.

DECLARATIONS

- I do not carry shame—I carry promise.
- Conviction is a gift, and I receive it with courage.
- I welcome truth that realigns me with who God says I am.
- I trade lies for freedom—daily, boldly, and without fear.
- I am being transformed, one truth at a time.

The Exchange Guide

Trading Lies for Truth

Transformation begins when we stop agreeing with lies—and start agreeing with Heaven.

Here's how to make that exchange:

1. IDENTIFY THE LIE

What have I been believing that doesn't align with who God is or who He says I am?

- ✕ "I'll never be enough."
- ✕ "God is disappointed in me."
- ✕ "I'm too broken to be used."

2. ASK THE HOLY SPIRIT

"Holy Spirit, what's the truth You want to give me in exchange for this lie?"

Listen. Wait. Let Him speak.

3. RECEIVE THE TRUTH

What is God saying instead?

- ✓ “In Christ, I am fully loved, fully qualified, and already accepted.”
- ✓ “The Spirit of God lives in me, and He delights in me.”
- ✓ “God’s strength is made perfect in my weakness—I’m never disqualified.”

4. AGREE OUT LOUD

Declare the truth over yourself. Speak it into your atmosphere.

“I am not what I fear—I am who God says I am.”

5. ACT ON IT

Take one small, bold step that aligns with the truth you received.

REMEMBER:

This isn’t about fixing yourself.

It’s about agreeing with the One who already knows who you are.

Every exchange you make digs deeper roots.

Every lie surrendered clears the way for clarity, peace, and unshakable identity.

SECTION 1

Introduction: Identity and Citizenship

(DAYS 1–10)

Born Again Into a Kingdom,
Not Just Rescued From the World

Before you can represent the Kingdom, you must know where—and to who—you belong.

These first ten days lay the foundation for everything else. Identity isn't just a spiritual buzzword—it's the soil in which Kingdom fruit grows. Without knowing who you are, you'll either strive to prove your worth or shrink back in fear. But when identity is settled, purpose flows naturally.

You weren't just rescued from sin. You were reborn into royalty. Your new birth wasn't merely an escape plan from hell—it was a re-entry into Heaven's plan for earth. You are a citizen of Heaven, commissioned with a mission and equipped with divine authority.

These days will call out your real origin: not shaped by culture, trauma, or performance—but born from above. You'll confront lies you've believed, disarm false humility, and step into the truth of your name, nature, and purpose in Christ. You'll stop asking the world who you are and start believing what Heaven already declared.

In this section, you'll:

- Explore what it means to be born from above
- Embrace your true citizenship in the Kingdom of God
- Understand your call to carry Heaven's culture
- Begin to live as someone who doesn't just belong—but represents

Section 1

Your assignment begins with awareness. Your authority begins with alignment. And both flow from identity.

These first ten days are not about hype, but clarity—not about ambition, but alignment with the One who called you.

The world doesn't need more Christians trying to blend in. It needs sons and daughters who know where they're from—and who they carry. Let's get rooted. Let's get clear.

Let's walk in who we truly are.

DAY 1

YOU WERE BORN FROM ABOVE

KEY SCRIPTURE:

“Jesus answered him, ‘I assure you and most solemnly say to you, unless a person is born again [reborn from above—spiritually transformed, renewed, sanctified], he cannot [ever] see and experience the kingdom of God.’”

— John 3:3 (AMP)

DEVOTIONAL THOUGHT:

When you said yes to Jesus, something eternal happened. You weren’t just forgiven—you were reborn.

Not upgraded. Not reformed. Not polished. Reborn.

The old you didn’t get a second chance—the old you died, and a new creation stepped into existence. You weren’t just pulled from darkness. You were born into light. You didn't just change your mind—you received the mind of Christ.

This rebirth didn't come from your will, your works, or your upbringing. It came from above—from Heaven itself. That's why your identity, your purpose, and your authority must be rooted in your origin. You were born from above, and now you're called to live from that reality.

The Kingdom isn't something you strive to enter. It's something you now see and carry—because you've been born into it.

Reflection Questions:

- Have I been living like someone who was upgraded, or someone who was reborn?
- What false origin stories (past, pain, performance) do I need to surrender?

ACTIVATION STEP:

Declare aloud:

“I am not who I used to be. I am born from above.”

Write it down where you'll see it daily.

DECLARATIONS:

- I am not the sum of my past—I am born from above.
- My identity is rooted in Heaven, not in this world.
- I live from the Kingdom I was born into.
- I see and carry what the Spirit reveals.

Prayer:

*Father, thank You that I am not who I used to be. You didn't give me a second chance—you gave me a new life. Help me to live from the reality of my rebirth. Let every thought, word, and action reflect the truth that I am born from above. Teach me to see the Kingdom and walk in it today. In Jesus' name,
Amen.*

DAY 2

CITIZENS OF A DIFFERENT KINGDOM

KEY SCRIPTURE:

“But [we are different, because] our citizenship is in heaven. And from there we eagerly await [the coming of] the Savior, the Lord Jesus Christ.”

— Philippians 3:20 (AMP)

DEVOTIONAL THOUGHT:

When you were born again, your citizenship changed.

You may live in a particular nation, carry a passport, and speak a language—but your truest identity, allegiance, and authority come from Heaven.

You are now a citizen of a different Kingdom. And that means your values, your vision, your responses, and even your expectations should look different.

UNSHAKABLE

As a citizen, you don't just represent Heaven's authority—you begin to carry its culture: love instead of fear, peace instead of panic, truth spoken in grace. Wherever you go, you bring Heaven's atmosphere with you.

Earth says: Climb higher to be seen. Heaven says: Go lower to serve.

Earth says: Protect yourself first. Heaven says: Lay down your life in love.

You weren't meant to fit in here—you were meant to stand out as someone who lives by another set of priorities.

Not to be weird or loud or self-righteous, but to reveal a different way—the way of the King.

As a citizen of Heaven, you live under a different economy, a different justice, a different timing, and a different peace. And when things on earth shake, you don't—because your foundation isn't here.

Reflection Questions:

- Where am I still acting like I belong to the world's system?
- What would shift if I truly lived as a citizen of Heaven?

ACTIVATION STEP:

Identify one decision or pressure in your life where you've been responding like a citizen of earth. Pause. Ask the Holy Spirit:

“How would a citizen of Heaven respond here?”

Then choose that response.

DECLARATIONS:

- I am a citizen of Heaven.
- I live under a different King, with a different peace.
- I am not defined by the systems of this world.
- I bring Heaven's culture wherever I go.

Prayer:

*Jesus, thank You that my citizenship is in Heaven.
Help me live from that truth, especially when things around me feel chaotic. Teach me how to respond, lead, and love in a way that reflects where I come from—not just where I live. I surrender my rights, my reactions, and my habits to Your Kingdom.*

In Your name,

Amen.

DAY 3

HEAVEN'S VALUES, NOT EARTH'S LABELS

KEY SCRIPTURE:

“Do not be conformed to this world [with its superficial values and customs], but be transformed and progressively changed [as you mature spiritually] by the renewing of your mind...”
— Romans 12:2a (AMP)

DEVOTIONAL THOUGHT:

The world is obsessed with labels. It will try to name you by your past, your politics, your success, your struggle—anything that can define you apart from Christ. But Heaven sees differently.

You were not born from above to carry earth's labels. You were reborn to reflect Heaven's values—truth, grace, humility, righteousness, compassion, and bold love.

If you let the world define you, the world will confine you. But when your mind is renewed, your eyes begin to see like Heaven sees—and the labels fall off. You stop measuring yourself (and others) by performance, image, or failure. You begin to value what God values: identity over image, obedience over optics, and presence over platform.

You are not a product of culture. You are a carrier of Heaven's culture.

So let the old labels burn. Let the truth rewire your thinking. Let the Spirit show you what's actually valuable.

Reflection Questions:

- What labels have I accepted that God never gave me?
- What values do I need to elevate in my life to reflect Heaven?

ACTIVATION STEP:

Write down one earthly label you've carried—then cross it out and write the Heavenly truth that replaces it. Keep it visible this week.

DECLARATIONS:

- I am not defined by labels—I'm defined by truth.
- I value what Heaven values.
- My mind is being renewed daily.
- I let go of what the world calls me and receive who God says I am.

Prayer:

Father, thank You that You see me clearly and call me by truth. I reject every label that doesn't come from You. I choose to value what You value. Renew my mind. Transform my thoughts. And help me carry Your way of thinking into every part of my life.

*In Jesus' name,
Amen.*
